Week 1 Assessment

Your assignment is as follows:

1. Using the project that has been created for you, in the main view controller add a second text field that will accept a number. Put this text field just to the right of the * operator label.

2. When the calculate button is tapped, perform the calculation and display the result in a second view controller. Use whatever approach you like to display the results.